THE LOANERS BANK CLOSED. DISSENSIONS IN THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS-JOHN F. HUBBARD, JR., APPOINTED RECEIVER-DE-

POSITORS TO BE PAID IN FULL. Much comment was caused down town yesterda, by the formal announcement that the Loaners' Bank of No. 22 Nassau-st. had closed its doors and gone into the hands of a receiver. This institution was one of the refles of the old Tweed Ring, having been incorpo rated while that combination was in power. Extraordinary privileges were conferred upon it, and its special charter enabled it to charge 2 per cent or more a month, and to lend its money on personal property of all sorts. It was practically an incorporated pawnbrokerage concern, with all the usurious power of a pawnbroker. It was organized with power of a pawnbroker. It was digarated was a capital of $500,000, of which $200,000 was paid in. It took such deposits as were offered, but as it was not a member of the Clearing-house, and was not instructed to transact a purely banking business, the deposits were insignificant, and came principally from friends. Sometime ago there was a change in the Board of Diseases and a rest of men obtained control. The Directors, and a new set of men obtained coatrol. The President, Dorr Russell, was in the minority, and dissensions arose in the management. The new directors wished to make loans to themselves, and to commit the bank to their interests in other ways, but Mr. Russell objected, and finally, with the aid of a friendly creditor, succeeded in having the bank placed in the hands of a

The statement of the President is as follows: The Loaners' Bank has been established five years, and has done a good business. It has a liberal charter, which allows it to make advances on collateral security of a general character. There were seven directors, among them Robert Colwell, Allston Gerry, and William P. Til ton, who formed the iron firm of Gerry, Tilton & Colwell, at No. 6 Rector-st. Mr. Colwell and Mr. Gerry were elected directors last Winter, while Mr. Tilton became a member of the Board only a short time ago. It was be-Heved they would be able to add $1,000,000 to the re-sources of the bank, in which they took a large amount of stock, although not a majority. When they failed in this, they endeavored to force Mr. Russell to make loans for their benefit, and they did secure some small loans from the bank on poor security. Their demands increased, but the climax was reached when it was proposed to make the bank responsible for the personal liabilities of one of the new directors. The following is an extract from the minutes of the Board meetings :

At a meeting held April 28, 1876—present, Gerry, Colwel, Gardner, Tilton—President in the Chair, Mr.
Gerry offered a resolution as follows:
Whereas, Certain certificates of stock in the Eallston Spa Gaslight Company and Atbettaford Gaslight Company are peld by the bank in trust for Robert Colwell, it is hereby repolyed that in case any action is commenced by J. A. Stoutenburg h against said Kobert Colwell for the possession of said gaslight stock, this bank will become security for the appearance of said Robert Colwell to the required amount.
This resolution was carried, Mr. Russell voting in the negative.

Mr. Russell said that this resolution was passed because Mr. Colwell feared arrest at the hands of Mr. Stoutenburgh whose gaslight stock he retained. In order to further their operations the members of the bankrupt firm had elected Mr. Colwell Vice-President, with powers equal to those of the President. The result was that the affairs of the Board became so disorganized that it became necessary for one party to go out, and after protracted discussion the Colwell party agreed to retire on Tuesday afternoon, but when they were called upon to fulfill their promise they declined to go without moneyer compensation. Henry Prentiss & Co. of Brooklyn, who hold a certificate of deposit issued by the bank for $12,000, acting in accordance with the wishes of the President, made application for the appointment of a receiver. Judge Glibert of the Supreme Court appointment of a receiver, and he qualified immediately and took pessession. Mr. Sewell of Sewell & Pierce, representing the bank, concurred in the proceedings. Mr. Russell said that the bank had comparatively few deposite, all of which could be paid of immediately. It was probable that they would be paid to-day or to-norrow. The bank would be reorganized and resume business almost immediately.

Mr. Hubbard, the receiver, was formerly State Senator from Chenango County, and is now engaged in a manufacturing business in Brooklyn. He said yesterday that there had been a great lack of harmony in the Board of Directors since the new members were admitted last becember. These members had been taken in under the impression that they would be the Armony in the Board of Directors since the new members were admitted last becember. These members had been taken in under the impression that they would be the hank, which had not been prosperous since the new members were admitted last becember. These members had been taken in under the impression that they would be able to pay all depositors in full and leave a dividend on the stock, as he had heave a dividend on the stock, as he had neave a dividend on the stock, as he had neave a divi Gerry, Tilton & Colwell had become bankrupts, and that Mr. Colwell feared arrest at the hands of Mr. Stoutenhave been erected, and at the present time fully 200 patients can be readily accommodated. The main building is of stone; one of the additional buildings, erected several years ago, is of frame, and can provide for as many patients as the main building. It is called the on, and is occupied by patients who are unable to pay for board or treatment. There are quarters for "bad cases," and quarters for "convalescents," and the diningrooms and washing rooms are conveniently situated. The Pavilion is kept scupulously clear, and the patients receive the same attention that is given to the patients who pay for board. The hospital rooms are large, containing several beds, and inmates are rarely able to obtain single rooms which many of these who pay for their treatment desire. The regular rate for p tients who have the means to pay it is $7 per week, with an extra charge for a single room. The treatment of most of the patients is of the simplest kind, and very little medicine is given. Fresh milk and egg-nog are freely used, and in many cases distilled egg-nog are freely used, and is many cases distilled liquors are prescribed. The food is of the best quality, and daring the last eighteen months there have been very few complaints from patients. Dr. James R. Delany, formerly of Charity Hospital, is the physician in charge. Hagmakes two visits to each patient daily, in the morning and evening, resides in the hospital, and is always at hand when needed. The wards are well supplied with nurses, and eight sisters of Charity devote their time from early morning till late in the evening to visiting the sick and ministering to their wants. The percentage is stated to be less than that of last year, and considerable less than it was in 1874. The nurses two years ago were convicts or ex-convicts, and it is asserted that the patients suffered much from the lact of proper attention. More than 30 convicts are employed about the place as messengers, cooks, and in two years ago were convicts or ex-convicts, and it asserted that the ratients smallered much from the help of proper attention. Mere than 30 convicts are employed about the place as messengers, cooks, and in the handry. Some of them receive small salaries, some nothing. On the steamer Fidelity, which runs from Twenty-sixth-at to the hospital to take patients, are employed several former occupants of Blackwell's Island Penticutary, who claim that they have worked for menths and have received no compensation.

There are less than 80 patients at present in the Riverside Hospital—a very small number of whom pay for hoard and treatment. In June last the Hospital and Pavilion were so crowded that tents for the accumulation of convolescent persons were put up on the grounds. The dead are generally buried on Hart's Island, unless relatives call for the bodies. No body is delivered to relatives unless they first purchase a zinc cusic t. The clothing worm by deceased patients is destroyed in all cases, though it is often called for by members of the deceased person's family.

TWO ATTEMPTS AT SUICIDE. Early on Tuesday evening Officer Flanagan of the Central Park Police found on the steps east of the Gill bridge, near the Ramble, on the borders of the lake in the Park, a man still living who had shot himself in the breast. The officer took him to the station at the Museum building, whence he was removed to the Presbyterian Hospital. In his pockets were a small seven-chambered revolver with two chambers still loaded, a razor, a pocketbook containing a note for $83 50, dated March 1, a knife and other small articles. He appeared to b about 45 years of age. It was found that the ball had passed through the lungs, lodging in the muscles of the ick. The ball was removed, and yesterday he was regarded as being in no immediate danger. He said his name was Charles V. Braunsberg, and that he had been employed by the Union Hardware Company, No. 120 Chambers st. At the Union Hardware Company Chambers-st. At the Union Hardware Company it it was said that Mr. Braunsberg had been in the Company's employ as a shipping clerk, until two months ago. He had always been a sober, steady man, but had been out of work for the last two months. It was thought that he had been very seriously broubled in regard to financial matters during the last six works. He had shown much excetement in speaking of his affairs when he had been calling at the establishment, and these troubles had probably driven him to attempt spicide.

attempted to commit suicide. He was arrested by Officer Abern of the Seventeenth Precinct yesterday at 4:30 a.m. at the corner of Second-ave. and Tweifth-st. He had discharged the contents of two barrels of a revolver at his person, the builets penetrating an envelop in his right breast-pocket containing five photographic cards. The reason given by him was that his wife had left him with an only child. He was held for examination.

THE JENKINS ART COLLECTION. CONCLUSION OF THE SALE-TOTAL AMOUNT OB-TAINED ABOUT $66,000.

SEARCHING OUT NAVAL ABUSES. INVESTIGATIONS OF THE NAVY-YARD COMMITTEE-FAMILIES OF COMMANDING OFFICERS ON SHIP-

BOARD. The sub-committee of the Naval Committee of the House of Representatives, which since Merclay has been examining the management of the Brooklyn Navyyard, continued investigations yesterday in the Naval Lyceum and at the Asio: House in the evening. Medical Director Lewis J. Williams testified in regard to the Naval Laboratory. Medical Director Thomas M. Potter gave his views as to the removal of the Naval Hospital, and said that he believed it was better for the public interests that it should be retained in the present location. Pay Director J. C. Eldredge, who has charge of the Provision and Clothing and Department, was also a witness. Chief Engineer Robert Danby was examined as an expert concerning the Ward boiler attachment for preventing explosions, the building of compound boilers and other machinery. Mr. Fraser, chief clerk of the Equipment and Recruiting Department, and Capt. Geo Butler of the Marine Corps, were also witnesses. Commander Richard W. Mende, who testified before the comnotice at Washington, and who was suddenly detached from the Navy-yard on Saturday last, was before the Entire last evening. It was surmised that Capt. Butler lastified as to the operations of the Quartermaster's

It is alleged that it exists in name more than in anything else, though a marine officer is in charge, whose clerk is the con of Paymaster-General Bradford.

A naval officer states that the Committee has received a large amount of valuable information and discovered at least six violations of law by the Navy Department. Another alleged alone which will be investigated is that of quartering families of commanding officers on shipboard. This was begun several years ago, when Commodore Hull had his young wife and her sister, Miss Hart, on the vessel which he commanded. Five licutenants were court-martialed and sent home for not paying due deference to the ladies, but the Secretary of the Navy at that time, Jam's K. Paulding, sent them back to the vessel and issued an order prohibiting giving quarters to ladies on shipboard. This regulation was enforced until after the war, when Admiral Farragon was allowed to take his wife to Europe on board the Franklin. A regulation was then made that no families should be allowed to stay on naval vessels except by special permission of the Secretary of the Navy. An officer of the navy who nas had command of several vessels stated to a Trintent reporter has tevening that be had known thirty vessels at one time they arrived in port. Ladies had sometimes occupied staterooms in the ward-room, netwithstanding the objections made by the ward-room officers. This officer also informed the reporter that the commanders of the flags hip Munesota and receiving ship Colorado had their families on board. One of the members of the Colorado and Capt. Johnson of the Minnesota were to be summoned as witnesses.

THE LONG ISLAND RAILROADS.

ALL THE ROADS FORMALLY PLACED UNDER THE MANAGEMENT OF THE LONG ISLAND RAILROAD COMPANY.

At a joint meeting yesterday of the directors of the three Long Island railroads, a compact was completed by which the Long Island Railroad Company takes an indefinite lease of the Flushing and North Shore and Southern railroads, thus reducing under one general management the Long Island roads running from Frombled in regard to financial matters during the last six wasks. He had shown much excitement in speaking of his affairs when he had been calling at the establishment, and these troubles had probably driven him to attempt at the Essex Market Police Court yesterday Max Energy, a German, was brought up on a charge of having eral roads, the measure being designed to benefit all roads alike, both in the saving of running expenses and in the increase of business facilities. The Long Island Railroad Company in accepting the lease does not accept the liabilities of the other roads, the mertgages on those roads remaining as before; but it takes the right of those roads remaining as before; but it takes the right of removing machine shops and depots so as to have central buildings for railroad purposes, and also the right to use the rolling stock of each company on any of the tracks. It is stated that since the controlling interest in these roads was obtained by Mr. Poppennusen and uniform passenger and freight rates were adopted, the ruinous rivalry between the companies has ceased, but the expense of maintaining the three Independent managements with their separate depots and machine shops has prevented the roads from paying any dividends. It is expected that the saving which will be made by running the roads under one management will amount to about $150,000 per year. Under the new system, it is claimed, a better arrangement for the carrying of freight and for the arrival and departure of passenger trains can be eff-cted. By such means it is thought that the travel on the roads may be so much increased that the roads will soon begin to pay dividends.
